FLOOR DEBATE

May 13, 2003

LB 407

And so I finished my thing and I will give my rest of my time to Senator Thompson. I think she wanted to finish a few remarks.

SENATOR CUDABACK: Senator Thompson, you have about one, thirty.

SENATOR THOMPSON: Okay. Senator Erdman, are you on the floor?

SENATOR CUDABACK: Senator Erdman.

SENATOR THOMPSON: I just need a clarification on...and I know we've talked about this off the mike, but I understand...I know you voted against restoring the money when Senator Schimek put an amendment up and the body chose not to fund the Commission on the Status of Women, even for one year, and I thought maybe it was an error,...

SENATOR CUDABACK: One minute.

SENATOR THOMPSON: ...but could you explain why it's back in, in your budget?

SENATOR ERDMAN: I used the numbers...what we talked about off the mike was I wasn't sure if that was going to continue to be part of a four-debate like we had the first round and, you know, if we could figure out a way to fund that I was assuming, making the assumption, that there wouldn't be a lot of opposition to leaving that in there. So it was a matter of looking at it politically and trying to figure out if we still had wounds that were there from making some of those cuts at the advocacy agencies versus what actually might be there as you see it.

SENATOR THOMPSON: Okay. Thank you, Senator Erdman. Well, I would say that we did discuss that and it shouldn't be in here. I know a lot of heartburn went into making that decision, but I think that we did...we had a vote on the first round and I'd suggest that that...we shouldn't revisit that and have that restored. And also just to follow up the discussion on the Health and Human Services' budget, neither the Governor nor the Appropriations Committee recommended this level of cuts. This is going to put us out of compliance with federal law.
